

Table 3

Training qualifications for on shore crew promotion of Ministry of Communications

Category	T r a i n i n g Q u a l i f i c a t i o n s
First class chief officer	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Anyone who holds a first class officer's certificate of competency or practicing certificate and has been in charge of the first class officer or second class chief officer for more than 18 months. Or, being a first class officer and second class chief officer for more than 18 months. 2. Anyone who holds a Class A second officer or Class B chief officer's certificate for passing the examination or practicing certificate and has been in charge of the Class A second officer or Class B chief officer for more than six months. Or, being Class A second officer and Class B chief officer for more than six months. 3. One who has been trained as a first class chief officer under the Class A mariner training class of the regulatory authority and possesses a qualified certificate of completion issued by a domestic crew training institution. 4. Anyone who holds a Class A third officer or Class B second officer's certificate for passing the examination or practicing certificate and has been in charge of the Class A third officer or Class B second officer for more than 18 months. Or, being Class A third officer and Class B second officer for more than 18 months. 5. Anyone who holds a second class chief officer's certificate of competency or practicing certificate and has been in charge of second class chief officer or first class officer for more than 18 months. Or, being a second class chief officer and first class officer for more than 18 months. 6. Anyone who holds a Class B third officer's certificate for passing the examination or practicing certificate and has been reissued by the navigation authority according to the regulations a first class officer's practicing certificate or certificate of competency which does not restrict the routes or areas, and has served as a first class officer or second class chief officer for more than 18 months, OR, has served as a first class officer and second class chief officer for more than 18 months. 7. Anyone who holds a second class officer's certificate of competency or practicing certificate and has been in charge of a second class officer for three years.
First class captain	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Anyone who holds a first class chief officer's certificate of competency or practicing certificate and has been in charge of the chief officer or second

Category	T r a i n i n g Q u a l i f i c a t i o n s
	class captain for more than 18 months. Or, being a first class chief officer and second class captain for more than 18 months. 2. Anyone who holds a Class A chief officer or Class B captain's certificate for passing the examination or practicing certificate and has been in charge of the Class A chief officer or Class B captain for more than 18 months. Or, being a Class A chief officer and Class B captain for more than 18 months. 3. One who has been trained as a first class captain under the Class A mariner training class of the regulatory authority and possesses a qualified certificate of completion issued by a domestic crew training institution. 4. Anyone who holds a second class captain's certificate of competency or practicing certificate and has been in charge of second class captain or first class chief officer for more than 18 months. Or, being a second class captain and first class chief officer for more than 18 months. 5. Anyone who holds a Class B chief officer's certificate for passing the examination or practicing certificate and has been reissued by the navigation authority according to the regulations a first class chief officer's practicing certificate or certificate of competency which does not restrict the routes or areas, and has served as a first class officer or second class captain for more than 18 months, OR, has served as a first class chief officer and second class captain for more than 18 months 6. Anyone who holds a Class C captain's certificate for passing the examination or practicing certificate and has been reissued by the navigation authority according to the regulations a second class captain's practicing certificate or certificate of competency which does not restrict the routes or areas, & has served as a second class captain or first class chief officer for more than 18 months, OR, has served as a second class captain and first class chief officer for more than 18 months
Second class chief officer	1. Anyone who holds a first class officer's certificate of competency or a practicing certificate and has been in charge of a first class officer for more than one year. 2. Anyone who holds a second class chief's certificate of competency or a

Category	T r a i n i n g Q u a l i f i c a t i o n s
	practicing certificate and has been in charge of a second class officer for more than two years. 3. The second-class chief officer’s training of the Class A mariner training class given by the regulatory authority & possesses a certificate of qualified completion issued by a domestic crew training institution. 4. Anyone who holds a Class B second officer or Class C chief officer’s certificate of passing the examination or practicing certificate and has been in charge of a Class B second chief or Class C Chief officer for more than one year. Or being a Class B second officer and Class C chief officer for more than one year. 5. Anyone who holds a Class B third officer’s certificate of passing examination or practicing certificates or has been in charge of a Class B third officer for more than two years. Or, being a Class B third officer and Class C second officer for more than two years. 6. Anyone who holds a Class C second officer’s or Class C third officer’s certificate for passing the examination or practicing certificate and has been reissued by the navigation authority according to the regulations a second class officer’s practicing certificate or certificate of competency which does not restrict the routes or areas, and has served as a second class officer for more than two years
Second class captain	1. Anyone who holds a first class chief officer’s certificate of competency or practicing a certificate and has been a first class chief officer for more than one year or second class chief officer for more than two years. 2. Anyone who holds a second class chief officer’s certificate of competency or practicing certificate or has been a second class chief officer for more than two years. 3. The second-class captain’s training of the Class A mariner training class given by the regulatory authority & possesses a certificate of qualified completion issued by a domestic crew training institution. 4. Anyone who holds a Class B chief officer or Class C captain’s certificate of passing examination or practicing certificate and has been in charge of a Class B chief officer or Class C captain for more than two years. Or, being a Class B Chief officer and Class C captain for more than two years. 5. Anyone who holds a Class C chief officer’s certificate for passing the

Category	T r a i n i n g Q u a l i f i c a t i o n s
	examination or practicing certificate and has been reissued by the navigation authority according to the regulations a second class chief officer's practicing certificate or certificate of competency which does not restrict the routes or areas, and has served as a second class officer or first class officer for more than two years, OR, has served as a second class chief officer and first class officer for more than two years
Third class officer	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Anyone who has completed the first-class, second-class or third-class officer training of the Class A mariner training class of the domestic crew training institution, and has earned the training certificate. 2. Anyone who holds the assistant-level navigation duty certificate of competency, the assistant-level navigation professional training certificate or the navigational duty verification certificate and has served as a helmsman and a skilled sailor for more than one year. 3. Anyone who holds a cadre crew's practicing certificate of third class captain and above, issued by the Council of Agricultural of the Executive Yuan. And has served as the third class captain of a fishing vessel for more than one year, and holds the certification documents issued by the fishery government. 4. Anyone who holds a Class B certificate of completion for training for sailors, driving, navigation or general-level training course given by the domestic crew training institution, and has served on the deck for more than three years. 5. One who has served as a sailor, a crew member, etc. for more than three years. 6. Anyone who has served as the naval officer of all types of naval vessels in naval duty for more than three years, and holds the naval command certificate, and holds the assistant level sailing training certificate or the sailing duty verification certificate. 7. Anyone who has served as a technical officer, police officer or non-commissioned officer of various types of vessels in the coastal patrol agency for more than three years and holds documents for the coastal patrol agency and holds an assistant-level voyage training certificate. 8. Graduated from the related marine department navigation group of the public or private junior college, marine, marine vocational schools of navigation, merchant shipping, shipping technology, transportation

Category	T r a i n i n g Q u a l i f i c a t i o n s
	technology, navigation group, maritime technology, water police department, water police department navigation group, marine patrol department navigation group, etc. and received a diploma 9. One who has served as a navigator of a powered passenger boat for more than three years, and holds supporting documents which were approved by the navigation authority.
Third class captain	1. Anyone who holds a co-pilot's certificate of passing examination or a practicing certificate, and has served as a co-pilot for more than one year. 2. Anyone who holds a third-class officer's certificate of competency or practicing certificate and served as a third-class officer for more than one year.
First class second engineer	1. Anyone who holds a first class engineer's certificate of competency or practicing certificate and has been in charge of a first class engineer or second class second engineer for more than 18 months. Or, being a first class engineer and second class chief engineer for more than 18 months. 2. Anyone who holds a Class A third engineer or Class B second engineer's certificate for passing the examination or practicing certificate and has been in charge of a Class A third engineer or Class B second engineer for more than six months. Or, being a Class A third engineer and Class B second engineer for more than six months. 3. One who has been trained as a first class second engineer under the Class A mariner training class of the regulatory authority & possesses a qualified certificate of completion issued by a domestic crew training institution. 4. Anyone who holds a Class A fourth engineer or Class B third engineer's certificate for passing the examination or practicing certificate and has been in charge of a Class A fourth engineer or Class B third engineer for more than 18 months. Or, being a Class A fourth engineer and Class B third engineer for more than 18 months. 5. Anyone who holds a second class second engineer's certificate of competency or practicing certificate and has been in charge of a second class second engineer or first class engineer for more than 18 months. Or, being a second class second engineer and first class engineer for more

Category	T r a i n i n g Q u a l i f i c a t i o n s
	than 18 months. 6. Anyone who holds a Class B third engineer's certificate for passing the examination or practicing certificate and has been reissued by the navigation authority according to the regulations a first class engineer's practicing certificate or certificate of competency which does not restrict the main propulsion power, and has served as a first class engineer or second class chief engineer for more than 18 months, OR, has served as a first class engineer and second class second engineer for more than 18 months. 7. Anyone who holds a second class engineer's certificate of competency or practicing certificate and has been in charge of a second class engineer for three years.
First class chief engineer	1. Anyone who holds a certificate of competency or a certificate of practice for a first class second engineer and has been in charge of a first-class second engineer or second class chief engineers for more than 18 months, Or, being a first class second engineer and second-class chief engineer for a total of 18 months and above. 2. Anyone who holds a second-class chief engineer certificate of competency, or used to be a second-class chief engineer or a first-class second engineer for more than 18 months, or a second-class chief engineer and a first-class second engineer for more than 18 months. 3. Anyone who received the training of first class chief engineer of the Class A mariner training class of the regulatory authority, and holds a certificate of qualified completion issued by the domestic crew training institution. 4. Anyone who holds a Class A second engineer or a Class B chief engineer's certificate for passing the exam or practicing certificate and has served as a Class A second engineer or Class B chief engineer for more than 18 months, OR, has served as a Class A second engineer and Class B chief engineer for 18 months and above. 5. Anyone who holds a Class B second engineer's certificate of passing the exam or a certificate of practice, and has been re-issued the first class second engineer practicing certificate or certificate of competency by the navigation authority in accordance with the regulations without specifying restrictions on main engine propulsion. One who has served

Category	T r a i n i n g Q u a l i f i c a t i o n s
	as a first class second engineer or second class chief engineer for more than 18 months
Second class second engineer	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Anyone who holds a certificate of competency or a certificate of practice of first class engineer and has served as a first class engineer for more than one year. 2. Anyone who holds a certificate of competency or a certificate of practice of second class engineer and has served as a second class engineer for more than one year. 3. One who has received the training of second class second engineer of the Class A mariner training class of the regulatory authority and holds a certificate of qualified completion issued by the domestic crew training institution 4. Anyone who holds a Class B third engineer's certificate for passing the exam and a certificate of practice, and has served as a Class B third engineer for more than one year. 5. Anyone who holds a Class B fourth engineer's certificate for passing the exam and a certificate of practice, and has served as a Class B fourth engineer for more than one year.
Second class chief engineer	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Anyone who has a certificate of competency or a certificate of practice for a first class second engineer, and has served as a first class second engineer for more than one year or a second-class second engineer for more than two years. 2. Anyone who has a second-class second engineer's certificate of competency or practicing certificate and has served as a second-class second engineer for more than two years. 3. One who has received the training of second class chief engineer of the Class A mariner training class of the regulatory authority and holds a certificate of qualified completion issued by the domestic crew training institution 4. Anyone who holds the certificate of passing the exam or certificate of practice for the Class B second engineer or Class A third engineer, and has served as a Class B second engineer for more than two years, OR, has served as Class B second engineer and Class A third engineer for more than two years.

Category	T r a i n i n g Q u a l i f i c a t i o n s
Third class Engineer	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li data-bbox="392 342 1396 521">1. Anyone who has the engine engineering or general-level training completion certificate of the Class B crew training class of the domestic crew training institution and has served in the ship cabin for more than two years and six months. <li data-bbox="392 551 1396 629">2. One who has served the cabin duties as a deputy craftsman, a starter, a boat crew..., etc for more than three years. <li data-bbox="392 658 1396 790">3. After the first-class, second-class and third-class engineering training of the Class A mariner training class of the domestic crew training institution, the company has been issued the certificate of completion. <li data-bbox="392 819 1396 999">4. One who has an assistant-level engineer's duty certificate of competency, an assistant-level engineer's duty professional training certificate of qualification or an engineer's duty certificate of qualification, has served as a mechanic for more than six months. <li data-bbox="392 1028 1396 1207">5. Anyone who has served as a sergeant on all types of naval vessels in the naval duty for more than three years, and holds the naval command certificate, and holds the assistant level sailing training certificate or the sailing duty verification certificate. <li data-bbox="392 1236 1396 1415">6. Anyone who has served as a technical officer, police officer or sergeant and above on various types of ship cabins in the coastal patrol agency for more than three years and has obtained the certificate of the assistant-level engineer duty training. <li data-bbox="392 1444 1396 1668">7. Anyone who holds the practicing certificate of the cadre crew of second class chief engineer and above issued by the Agricultural Committee of the Executive Yuan, and has served as a second class chief engineer of a fishing vessel for more than one year, and obtained the certification documents by the fishery government. <li data-bbox="392 1697 1396 1955">8. Graduated from the related marine department engineering group of the public or private junior college, marine, marine vocational schools of engine engineering, engines, engine technology, marine engineering, water police department, water police department engineering group, marine patrol department engineering group..., etc. and received a diploma.

Category	T r a i n i n g Q u a l i f i c a t i o n s
Third Class	1. One who has a deputy navigator exam passing certificate or practicing certificate, and has served as a deputy navigator for more than one year.
Chief Engineer	2. One who has a third-class certificate of competence or a certificate of practice and has served as a third-class engineer for more than one year.
Remark : <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Those who participate in the third-class officer and third-class engineer promotion training should have a crew service manual issued by the navigational authority. 2. The trainee or assistant qualifications are not counted. 	